ART 251: Islamic Art in the Age of the Caliphs

Learn about medieval Islamic society through the art and architecture of the great caliphal courts of the 7th to 13th centuries. The course explores major monuments of the Islamic Mediterranean, Iraq, Iran, and Central Asia and includes visits to the world-class Islamic collection of the Freer Gallery/Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. and special collections on the UNC campus. Note: There is an extra fee for the off-campus component.
